Lake Jackson, Texas

City of Lake Jackson
Winter Weather Advisory 8am

A mix of frozen precipitation is forecast to begin falling around noon today (1/16/18) as temperatures fall into the mid-twenties tonight. There is a potential for some icing of roads, bridges and overpasses.

TxDot has treated their bridges/overpasses. The city is sanding our bridges.

BISD has closed schools today (1/16/18). The bus system will not run today as well.

We will collect garbage today.

The Civic Center will be open today.

City Council meeting for tonight is cancelled as is Municipal Court.

City Hall, Municipal Court and the Recreation Center will close at noon today. We will re-open at 9am Wednesday.

We encourage residents to use caution on the roads and limit any travel, especially this afternoon and overnight.

Please make your standard cold weather preparations. Please make sure to bring your pets inside during these freezing temperatures.

We don't get winter weather here very often. So, again, we encourage everyone to use caution and be safe

More updates will follow if conditions warrant.
